

Annual Bluegrass

Description:

Annual bluegrass is one of the most common weeds of turf, ornamental plantings, gardens, and industrial areas in Kings County. It is native to Europe but is distributed worldwide. Commonly referred to as "Poa," it is a particular problem in golf course greens and fairways as well. It also can be a weed in vegetable crops and agronomic crops. Their typical "boat-shaped" leaf tips, which curves up like the bow of a boat, are a distinguishing characteristic of the genus.
